

Going to the Glasgow Tribunals Centre

This Building is the Glasgow Tribunals Centre.

Arriving

Side Entrance

Main Entrance

The Tribunals Centre is at 20 York Street, Glasgow.
There is a main entrance and a side entrance.
I will go in the side entrance.
Someone I know will be with me.

Inside the building

Someone I know will be with me.
The case officer will meet us inside the building.
The case officer will tell me their name.
The case officer will show us where we are going.

Going Up

Someone I know will be with me.

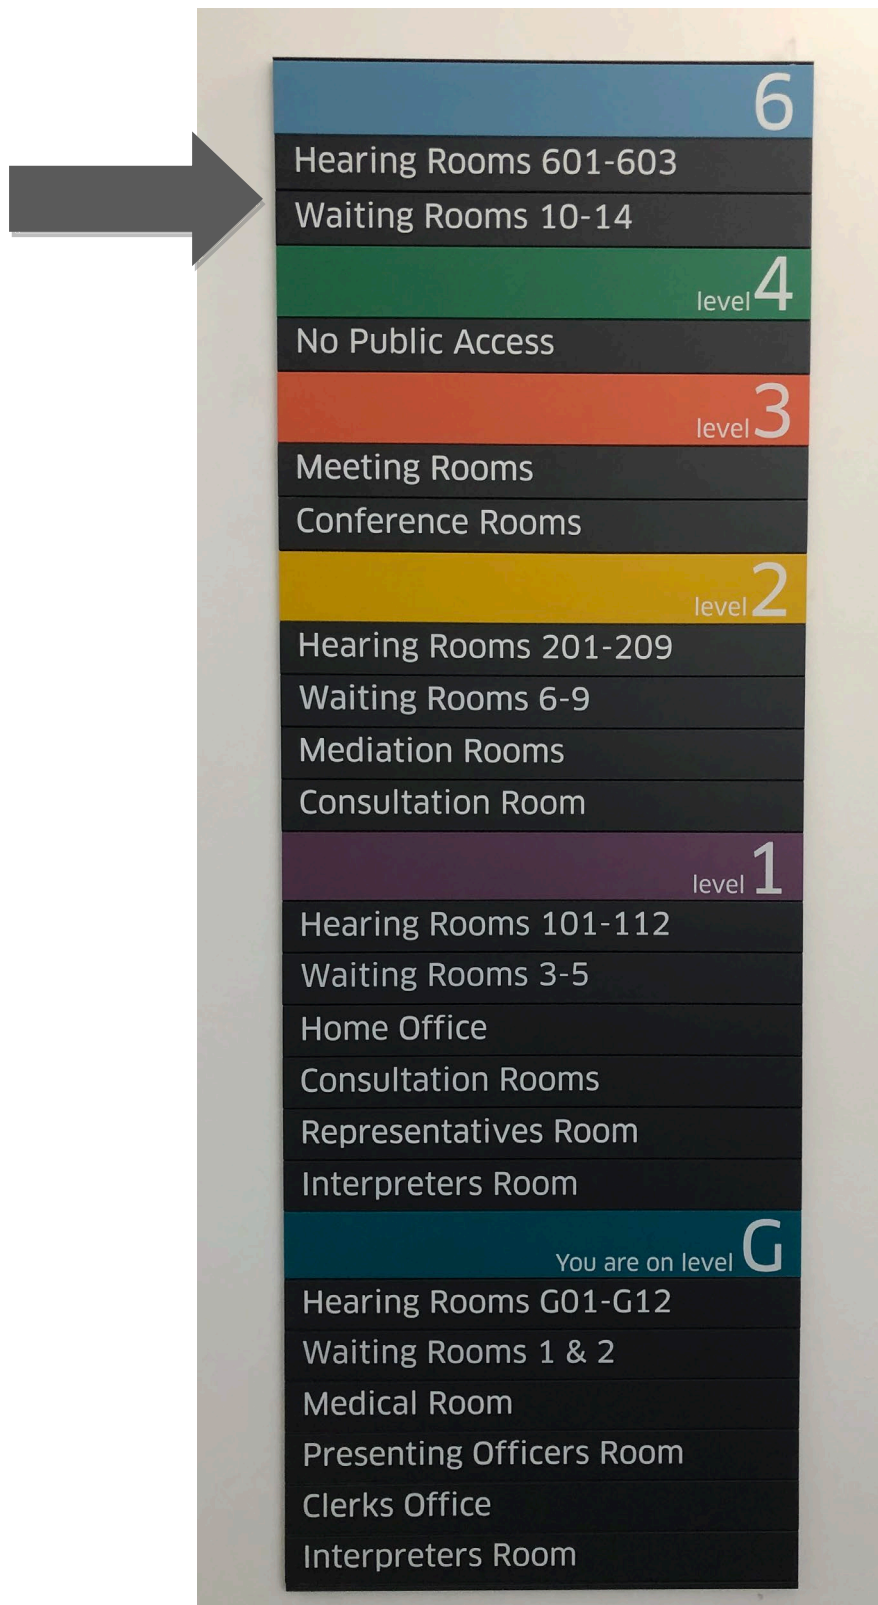

We will go up in the lift to the 6th floor.

The lift has lots of mirrors.

The case officer will come with us and show us where to go.

If I don't like the lift, we can walk upstairs to the 6th floor.

Getting to the right room

Someone I know will be with me.
We will get out of the lift at the 6th floor.
The case officer will show us where to go next.

Waiting Room 1

Someone I know will be with me.

The case officer will show us to where to wait until the hearing starts.
We will sit down and wait.

The case officer will tell me when it's time to go into another room.
The case officer will tell us where to go.

Waiting Room 2

Someone I know will be with me.

The case officer will show us to where to wait until the hearing starts.
We will sit down and wait.

The case officer will tell me when it's time to go into another room.
The case officer will tell us where to go.

Waiting Room 3

Someone I know will be with me.

The case officer will show us to where to wait until the hearing starts.

We will sit down and wait.

The case officer will tell me when it's time to go into another room.

The case officer will tell us where to go.